

Children Downtime at Homeless Shelter

THE PROBLEM

BACKGROUND

Homeless youth need activities to participate during their spare time to improve their quality of life and ability to get out of their state of homelessness.

USER RESEARCH

Homeless youth in homeless people

Many homeless youth have no way out of the cycle of poverty.

Most homeless kids cannot have continuous education.

Many homeless youth receive very few help from their parents.

OBJECTIVES

To occupy youth in their downtime to be productive and also guarantee them a continuous education.

To have their parents involved in their education.

OUR SOLUTION

Work with homeless liaison to establish online education program that guarantees a continuous education opportunity for homeless youth.

Call out college volunteers to lead Girl Scout/Boy Scout type program with activities geared toward the needs of homeless youth.

Develop parent program that keeps updating children's progresses and offer guidance of how they can help out.
Provide mentorship for the kids via college.
